

WMGS Newsletter Autumn 2015

WMGS Membership Meetings

All Membership Meetings are free to the public and are held in the Ryerson Auditorium at the Grand Rapids Public Library Main Branch at 1:30 PM.

Mini-classes are also free and take place before the main meeting from Noon until 1 PM in the Adult Computer Training Center, lower level.

Next Membership Meeting Is September 12th

Topic: Going the Extra Mile — How to make the most of your hometown genealogy and historical societies

Maureen Nelson will highlight some of the smaller local genealogical and historical societies to the north of Kent County. She will discuss ways you can use their resources in your research and how you can help your local group.

Maureen is the President of the Mecosta County Genealogical Society in Big Rapids and enjoys “digging deeper” to find some things that you might not find so easily. Many WMGS members will remember her previous presentation about Irish-Canadians who settled in the Big Rapids/Paris area of Michigan.

Maureen Nelson

September 12th Mini-Class Noon – 1:00 PM

Just Starting Genealogy?: Don't know where to start? Learn basic beginning genealogical research skills to help investigate your own family tree. Check your home for documents & photos – what to look for, plus talking to relatives – what to ask. Instructor: Linda Guth

October 3rd Membership Meeting

Topic: Defective, Dependent, and Delinquent: Researching Ancestors in Michigan Poorhouses

Long before the advent of modern social welfare, Michigan county governments utilized poorhouses to support an area's poor, elderly and indigent population. Explore the early history and evolution of Michigan Poor Law. Discover research strategies for tracing poorhouse inmates as well as viewing examples of relevant documents.

Adam Oster

Adam holds a Bachelor of Arts in History from Grand Valley State University with a minor in Political Science and Secondary Education Certification. He also has a Master of Library Science degree from Indiana University.

October 3rd Mini-Class Noon – 1:00 PM

Research Analysis Sheet: This class will illustrate the hands on method that I have developed over the years to resolve issues and confirm evidence. The Research Analysis Sheet is a versatile grid used to contrast and compare information, ferret out impossible issues and confirm the validity of information. This cognitive map allows the researcher to spot a possible place to bang away at a brick wall. Instructor: Shirley DeBoer

NOTE:

The November 7th Membership Meeting is in the Planning Stage. Be sure to check www.wmgs.org, the Local History Department at the Grand Rapids Public Library, or the President's Email Message at a future date for more details.

October 9th and 10th

WMGS Two Hour Classes

Genealogists in Western Michigan have made these longer classes a popular choice. More time allows for more in-depth discussions and questions. This fall, two are scheduled to cover basic techniques and resources. They will be very helpful for beginners and for those of us who need a reminder to not forget research basics.

Monday, September 21st 6:30PM – 8:30PM

Genealogical Forms: Every family historian needs certain worksheets and forms for tracking relatives and research progress. Learn how to use these basic genealogical forms. Instructor: Linda Guth

Location: Grand Rapids Public Library, Adult Computer Training Center, lower level.

Monday, October 19th 6:30PM – 8:30PM

Record Types: Learn what information each type may contain and where they may be found. Record Examples: Census, Military, Immigration, Land, Death & Cemetery Records. Instructor: Linda Guth

African American Museum Coming to Grand Rapids

WMGS member, George Bayard, is on a mission to help establish the Grand Rapids African American Museum and Archives (GRAAMA). The name is intentional. George notes, "We purposely chose it because in many families, Grandma is the person who holds the history of the family and takes on the responsibility of passing that history on to the next generation."

The non-profit's Board of Directors has been encouraged by a grant from the Dyer - Ives Foundation of $48,720 and a grant from the Kellogg Foundation of $24,990, totaling $73,710. George said, "The museum will basically cover all of West Michigan, as far as Traverse City, all the way down to Benton Harbor but primarily Grand Rapids." He added, "Throughout the state, there is an African American Museum in Big Rapids, Holland, Lansing, Kalamazoo and in Detroit, but nothing in Grand Rapids, the second largest city in Michigan. We don't have anything that is devoted to Blacks in this city." The organization wants to locate a building where the stories of Black Civil Rights advocates, musicians, athletes, and average people can be preserved.

The Museum's mission is to promote, preserve, display, collect and honor the lives, culture, history and accomplishments of African, African American, and connected peoples in the Greater Grand Rapids Michigan community.

Need Help? Have Questions?

Whether you're just beginning to investigate your family's past, or are a more seasoned genealogist who needs a "new pair of eyes" to jump start your research, it's helpful to talk to other more experienced family historians. You also have the option to participate in WMGS projects.

Any beginning, intermediate or advanced researcher who wants help with a genealogical question is encouraged to come to the Local History Department at the Grand Rapids Public Library to confer with an experienced WMGS member on any Tuesday or Thursday evening in September October and November from 6 to 9 pm.

Next Grand Rapids Public Library Genealogy Lock-in is October 30 from 6-10 PM

The Lock-In is a free event hosted by the Grand Rapids Public Library and sponsored by the Western Michigan Genealogical Society for both new and more experienced family historians. It provides an opportunity to use the extensive resources available in the stacks, share knowledge with other genealogists and learn about new techniques and resources. Learn how to use the microfilm reader/scanner/printer, save images, and take advantage of free copying and printing during the event. Use the time to search databases—we will have plenty of computers available or bring your own laptop and use the library's WiFi network. Bring your genealogy questions or Ancestry and Heritage Quest problems—volunteers will be on hand to assist. Network with other genealogists—you never know what you might find!

Registration is required: www.grpl.org/register or call 988-5400.

New Lock-in Guidelines

Registration: You may ONLY register for yourself and one other person. There is a maximum of fifty people due to space limitations. If all spaces are filled there will be a waiting list. If you are registered and find you will be unable to attend, please notify the library as soon as possible so another genealogist can take your place.

Food: The Library and WMGS will provide snacks for hungry researchers. If you wish, you may also bring additional food and drinks. ALL edibles MUST be eaten in the VanderVeen Room. No food or liquids are allowed in the stacks or by computers.

Copying: Please copy no more than TEN pages at one time. This will reduce the time each person has to wait for their copies to be available. To avoid confusion, it is helpful if you collect your copies as soon as they have been printed.

WMGS Writing Contest Coming soon!

Details on the 2016 WMGS Writing Contest will be in the next issue of Michigana.

A Genealogy Librarian's Pet Peeves

- People who believe everything they find online is true. Or even everything in print is true. Caveat Emptor! Just like everything else in life, you have to look at genealogy information with a critical eye. Evaluate the source.

- Online genealogy without any source citation. Some of my favorite web sites have this problem. Someone posts the wrong information. It gets picked up and repeated by everyone else. Yet no one knows how it got started, because it wasn't cited.

- People who fervently believe they are related to someone famous or have Native American ancestry and resist all factual information that doesn't agree with their illusion.

- People who won't ask for help when it is obvious that they need it. Here someone needed help with our microfilm machine. Now there is a roll of microfilm with a jagged edge somewhere in the 1000s of rolls of film that the library owns.

- Misspelling G-E-N-E-A-L-O-G-Y. It is not geneology or genealogy. It is genealogy. If you are going to do it, learn how to spell it. Or use "family history research" instead.

- Advertisements to buy your family crest or your family history. A family doesn't have a crest. An individual is granted the right to use a crest. It may or may not be inherited. The purchased family histories usually consist of a phone directory of everyone with your surname and some generic history.

- The myth: Our name was changed at Ellis Island. No. It wasn't. Immigrants had papers from their home country that they carried with them. Ellis Island had interpreters. Think about it. The place was full of people who spoke foreign languages, some of whom also spoke English. However, many immigrants chose to change their name later, to blend in and be more "American."

- "It has to be online!" People who believe the Internet has all the family history information they need. Even when the archive's web site says you have to visit the building or tells how to order the paper copy. I have had members argue with me on this one.

- People who want "everything on my Smith family". Really? You want everything on the Smith family? Are you willing to pay for that? A proper request identifies a specific family, time period, and place. Example: Jeremiah Smith who lived from 1840-1898 in Litchfield, Medina County, Ohio.

- People who don't understand that not everything is digitized. Digitization costs time and money, both of which are in short supply in libraries. Yes, we would love to digitize our local paper and yearbooks. But we don't have the time or money.
